EFFECTIVE TALK

In the Interests of Good Citizenship by Rev. Dr. McCrory.

HE HEADED REFORM MOVEMENT

In Pittsburgh and Distinguished Himself by His Aggressive Campaign Against Law-breakers—Last Night He Urged the Christian Element to Show an Interest in the Enforcement of the Laws—Address Well Received.

Last night at the Fourth street M. E. church, the second of the series of meetings in the interest of good citizenship was held, and despite the rain there was a large attendance. Rev. J. T. McCrory, D. D., of Pittsburgh, was the only speaker, and his talk was exceedingly interesting, being replete with point and effective humorous illustrations. Dr. McCrory was at the head of a "reform" movement in Pittsburgh, and won fame for his aggressive warfare and the local committee made no mistake in securing him. His subject was: "Do our cities need Nehemiah?"

After speaking of Nehemiah's coming to Jerusalem and the good that followed, Dr. McCrory turned his attention to Wheeling. The city was founded, he said, 125 years ago by a people who came over the mountains determined to establish a community where law and order should prevail. In the earlier years walls surrounded cities as means of protection. In these days civil enactments are the walls. The speaker inquired where these walls were if it was true that Sunday excursions came to Wheeling, with bands of music parading the streets. And where are the walls, he repeated, if it is true that gambling houses and disorderly places are allowed?

The question is, said Dr. McCrory, is a Nehemiah needed? He noted the decrease of open vice in Pittsburgh in the last year and how lawless places were better regulated. He put the blame on the municipal officers who should enforce the laws to the letter. But to obtain this result, the Christian element in the community should assert its strength and show its force and numbers to the executive powers, for it seemed that in the cities the Christian element was not taken into account, which was the case because the Christians were too silent regarding the evils they objected to. Among these evils were Sunday traffic on the railroads, Sunday selling in the stores and so on.

As to a compromise, Dr. McCrory opposed it and said Nehemiah was against compromises, he believing there could be no compromise with wrong. Then he branched into a denunciation of the liquor traffic, and soon returned to discussion of civil rights. The speaker grew very eloquent in speaking of home and the home city, and he said the Christian wanted his home city to be pure and clean and free from sin. Eternal vigilance was the price of liberty and a watch must be kept on the foes of religion who were indolently creeping into the cities. The fact that they were showed that the walls of a city were down, for which the speaker arraigned the municipal executives. First, however, the Christian citizens must wake up and do their duty by letting the executives know they wanted the laws enforced.

Dr. McCrory talked in a general way and his talk was applicable to all cities. He thought Wheeling could be revolutionized if the audience before him would unite in asking for enforcement of any ordinance. The doctor said he would like to be with his Wheeling audience when they interviewed the authorities, and he displayed knowledge of considerable experience in interviewing officials in that line on previous occasions.

On account of prayer meetings this evening, the next union meeting will occur to-morrow night, at the United Presbyterian church. It will be addressed by Rev. W. D. Wishart, of Allegheny.
